HUB CLUB

From the Editor As your editor, I ask that you send me photos and anything else that you would like to see in the newsletter. I am more than happy to use anything you want in the newsletter, as it is YOUR newsletter. If you want to continue to have an informative newsletter, I need material from the membership. You can send them to me directly at briarpatcheast@aol.com by the 20th of each month. Kris Breyer

From the Webmaster: Please submit items for web page. Include pictures of all our members. Please send names of driver, passengers, horse(s), and description of what you are doing, and where.

Prez' message: I don't know about the rest of you, but consider me impressed after seeing Larry and Carolyn Sluiters' carriage collection after our meeting in March! "Extensive" doesn't even begin to describe it! Kinda made me want to return to the olden days of going to the horse races with friends, sitting on top of the carriage to watch, and picnicking on wine, cheese and crackers from the wood coolers.

However, it's spring 2015, when a modern carriage driver's fancy turns to . . . clinics. Luckily, there's a lot to choose from: Equine Affaire Ohio, Midwest Horse Fair, Go the Distance Driving Clinic, Dairyland's Joe Yoder clinic, and of course, the HUB Club's Sara Schmitt clinic May 1-3 at Theresa Adams' in Rockton. If you're not ready for Club-sponsored events the Mid-States Morgan Horse Club Open Horse Show, Fox Valley Saddle Association's Open Show Series, the Notara Farm HDT, the Hickory Knoll CDE, or the Eastern Iowa Carriage Glow, I don't know what we're going to do with you.

Yours Truly, Dr. Lydia Gray

Minutes from March 15, 2015 HUB Club Meeting

In attendance were Members Lydia Gray, Sue West, Teri Delke, MaryAnn Carter, Carolyn and Larry Sluiter, Rosalie Taylor, Linda Fiedler, LeAnn and Steve Olson, Theresa Adams, Don and Judy Hayes, Mary Thompson, Judy Dowling, Reiner and Lonnie Schuetz, Nancy Baker, Ann Olujic, Don Kalbantner, Linda Fraunhofer and Grace Frelach-Grubb. Also attending were guests Brenna Berns (who joined) and her dad, Walter Nickerson, Norma Maxstad, Jackie and Melinda Borgmann, Tammy Crowden (who joined) and her dad John, and Mark and Kathy Mannino. 32 attendees!!

A big thank you to Carolyn and Larry Sluiter for hosting the meeting and giving us a tour of their 1805 Round barn, gorgeous Hackneys and wonderful carriage collection.

Meeting was called to order at 1:00. Sue moved and Carolyn seconded that minutes be approved as written in February Newsletter.

LeAnn mentioned how wonderful the Newsletter is.

Treasury is $7,392.

Ann McCombs is looking into insurance for our trailer. Our liability insurance agent has not found anything yet. Emily Berendt has provided Lydia with trailer liability release waiver which the board will review. Jim Feuerborn and Judy Dowling should be included on review. Kelly Chuman has all but one set of trailer keys (Sue has one set).

MaryAnn reported on updating the website - not quite live. She is attempting to get permission to use photos. Also, forward any photos you would like on the website along with photographer approval. Friend our FB page if you haven't!

Thanks to Sheri Haviza for copying the old VHS tapes to disc.

We are now a member of CAA - Theresa displayed a banner they provided us. Lydia mentioned there is a CAA /HUB Club liaison, Gloria Burgess and Larry (with "encouragement" from Carolyn) Sluiter volunteered to be the liaison on this end. Lynn Simpson is our new Central Region ADS director and may attend our May meeting at the Sara clinic.

Sponsorship Committee Report: $50 to Mid-States Open show, $100 to Eastern Iowa Pleasure show, $100 to Notara Farm CDT, $100 to Hickory Knoll CDE, $150 to FVSA (already sent) to sponsor cross country driving classes. Need to provide our banners to display at these events.

Event Committee report: MaryAnn reported the lessons are filled for the Sara Schmidt clinic but auditors are most welcome and encouraged! Lesson schedule will be published in the next newsletter.

St. James Family Field Days usually has a great attendance. Contact MaryAnn as she needs one more demo driver and grounds volunteers. Note that you must arrive with your horse by 9:00 and trailers may not leave until after 5:00. Theresa Adams volunteered to be a ground assistant.

Aug 29 - Dirty Harness Day - Kris Breyer will need volunteers. FVSA is also encouraging competitors to camp on the grounds and stay for the open show on the 30th. Lydia asked if the Event committee should be responsible for organizing the annual meeting. Tammy Crowden mentioned she may be able to get the conference center in Poplar Grove. She would also like to do a joint venture with Bravehearts to help their driving instructors.

Member News

Here is a photo of Julius and me winning the Open Pleasure Driving Classes at the Jericho Productions Open Horse show held at the Jefferson County Fairgrounds, Jefferson, Wisconsin. The show was held over the Labor Day weekend. Julius won both days under two different judges. I drove Julius in all classes. There were eight other competitors in the driving classes. The other competitors were Morgans, Morabs, Arabians, and a Belgian Draft Horse. We were second place in Reinsmanship both days, also. Sandy Nowicki

LARRY AND CAROLYN SLUITER'S FARM IN FREEPORT, IL

The March 15th Hub Club meeting at club members Larry and Carolyn Sluiter's farm in Freeport, IL was an enjoyable one for everyone attending. The potluck lunch was anchored by delicious roast beef sandwiches and au gratin potatoes provided by our hosts. Twenty plus members, including 5 new members, attended. After lunch, everyone toured the 1907 round dairy barn that had been converted to a horse barn. The beautiful Hackney horse stallion, Chambord D'Artganon, known on the farm as Dart, lives like a king here. REALLY nice hackney horses (some for sale, I've heard). The highlight of the afternoon, though, was the antique carriage collection to die for! It included samples from Brewster, C.P. Kimball, Healey, and Studebaker. The private coach, restored to perfection, included the storage in the back boot for refreshments and the required glassware. The origins of the tailgating party! Larry and Carolyn's wedding carriage, a beautifully restored Barouche, was another club favorite. There were a number of sleighs and smaller private and commercial vehicles to round out the collection. And a pony sleigh, because, hey, even if you only have horses on the farm, you might get a pony someday, right??

FOUR USEF DRIVING NATIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP TITLES AWARDED AT LIVE OAK INTERNATIONAL CDE

RELEASE: March 22, 2015 AUTHOR/ADMINISTRATOR: Leah Oliveto

Steve Wilson (PicsofYou)

Ocala, Fla. – The first United States Equestrian Federation (USEF) Driving National Championship titles of the year were decided today at Live Oak International CDE in the Single Pony, Pair Pony, Pony Team and Pair Horse divisions. Drivers navigated the 20-obstacle course on the final day of the championships as the leaders coming into the cones phase faced stiff competition from a talented field of challengers.

USEF Single Pony Driving National Championship

Tracey Morgan went into the ring with a substantial 17 point lead and with just one ball down secured her ninth USEF National Championship title with a score of 130.17. “Fuego is just as powerful as a pair; he’s my Ferrari. This is my third year competing him and we’re really finding a partnership,” said Morgan of her 14-year-old German Riding Pony gelding. “We will be heading to Europe later this summer to prepare for the World Championships and this weekend has given us a great confidence boost.” Miranda Cadwell (Southern Pines, N.C.), who moved up to second from fifth place after winning yesterday’s marathon, had two balls down to finish on an overall score of 144.77. The score was enough to take Reserve National Championship honors for Cadwell and Leslie Brendl’s Cannon’s Majestic Leyla, a 12-year-old Welsh Pony cross mare. Paul Maye added 10.44 penalty points through the cones track to finish in third with 151.20.

USEF Pair Pony Driving National Championship

Amy Cross (PicsofYou)

With less than one ball between the two, Amy Cross (Aiken, S.C.) and Katie Whaley (Paris, Ky.) went into the cones phase with steel determination. Cross stuck to her plan to drive an on-point course and expertly guided Wendy O’Brien’s Welsh pony pair to a double-clear, winning the National Championship for the second consecutive year on a score of 134.40.

“I was nervous coming into today with less than a point separating Katie and me. We knew we had to go in there and perform, and luckily they are great in the cones and make it so easy for me,” said Cross. “The start of the weekend went according to plan as we had a strong dressage test. Our marathon could have been better, but we really nailed the cones and that was exciting for us.” Whaley and her handsome pair of Welsh cross geldings finished the course within the time allowed, but had a costly ball down at obstacle six to add three points, finishing in second with an overall 138.30. Jennifer Matheson was the only other driver in the division to go double-clear, but it was not enough to catch the leaders. She finished in third on an overall score of 150.49.

USEF Pony Teams Driving National Championship

Heather Schneider (Palm City, Fla.) secured the National Championship title as the sole competitor in the division on an overall score of 233.44. “I drove a pair for a long time, and in fact my two leaders are my former pair. It’s been a long time in the making and I am very happy with their performance here this weekend.”

USEF Pair Horse Driving National Championship

In the two driver field, Steve Wilson (Louisville, Ky.) put the pressure on Casey Zubek (Manhattan, Ill.) all weekend, finishing a close second in both the dressage and marathon phases. Wilson, driving in his first USEF National Championship, took a decisive win in the cones phase with just one ball down and 3.33 in time penalties, overtaking Zubek for the National Championship title with a final score of 164.92. “I am the oldest and the least experienced in this sport,” joked Wilson. “I have worked for the last five years to become a serious competitor and have always hoped to win an event of this magnitude. I am really happy to have finally accomplished that goal.” Zubek had a little more than a ball in-hand going into Sunday, but succumbed to the technical challenges of the course, having a single ball down at obstacles four and six and two balls down at obstacle 11 in addition to time penalties. On an overall score of 176.71, Zubek took home Reserve National Championship honors.

Late Winter/ Early Spring Blanket Repair

Is your horse especially destructive this winter? These DIY blanket patch-ups will keep him clothed until warmer weather arrives.

By Sarah Coleman | January 14, 2015

Ideally, your horse's blankets would last from the first chilly day of winter to its last lingering gasp, but that's often not the case. Read on to learn how to do an emergency patch-up until you can bring his blankets to a professional.

By now, your horses have probably been wearing their blankets for quite some time. Their winter clothes are most likely showing some wear and tear in the form of missing straps, small holes or larger tears.

The middle of winter is not the easiest time to send blankets off to professional washing and repair services, especially if you don't have a spare to put on your horse in the meantime. With a little ingenuity, you can handle emergency patch-up and repair jobs on your own.

Before you begin any repairs, your blanket, or at least the area you are repairing, needs to be clean. Many times it's not possible to take the blanket to a laundry at that exact time (because, let's be honest—horses seem to ruin things at the most inopportune times, like right before the holidays or you travel out of town). Also, the rip might be so large that you might fear if you wash it that the fill will all fall out!

In these cases, it's necessary to make sure that at least the edges of where you will be repairing and a few inches on either side are clean and dry. You can use soap and water, but spot cleaning with rubbing alcohol should suffice.

Broken Belly Straps

Many horses that love to run, buck and roll will come in from the field with missing blanket hardware in the form of missing belly or leg straps or broken chest buckles. These issues can be the most difficult to repair on your own, as most home sewing machines are not able to sew through the stuffing and the straps to hold them securely (though it's worth a shot!). In addition, some talented horses are able to rip off entire belly straps, leaving you with nothing but a short section of strap that you're unable to do much with. In this case, you can use an elastic blanket surcingle. Used behind the withers, the surcingle can help hold the blanket in place until you can more properly repair the missing belly strap. If you happen to have pieces from an old blanket, you can cobble together a new strap, sewing the new piece on to the old and sewing on a new hook for the fastener. Replacement fasteners, buckles and other hardware are available at tack shops and local farm and feed stores, as well as online.

With any blanket repair, the heavier the thread, the better, as it will be more durable. If you are trying your hand at sewing on a belly strap, you can use braiding thread, dental floss (really!) or fishing line. It can be very difficult to get a needle all the way through multiple layers of fabric and straps, so be careful; a blunt needle is easier to wield, but can be harder to work through the fabric. Hand-sewing the T-strap in place in between the frayed ends of elastic is also possible, or you can use a sewing machine to sew it in place.

You can help prevent the repaired blanket strap from coming loose by using the small, black rubber bands that fit over the T-buckle to help them stay put. By preventing the straps from coming loose, you eliminate the majority of the chance he will rip it off again.

Loose Leg Straps

Leg straps can be a more difficult repair as they involve stitching through additional layers of fabric; a heavy-duty sewing machine is usually necessary to securely fasten these back to the body of the blanket. When reattaching the leg straps, consider using heavy canvas or leather as backing to make the repair more secure and less prone to re-tearing. If you don't have a heavy-duty machine at your disposal, some shoe repair shops will sew leg straps back onto clean horse blankets. If your horse has completely torn off one leg strap, you can tighten the remaining strap as much as possible and see if it will stay in place. If all else fails, or if you know your horse plays hard, use baling twine from one rear leg strap hook to the other as a tail cord to keep your horse's blanket in place until you can have it more permanently repaired.

Pretty Is As Pretty Does

Large rips and small holes in the body of the blanket are common, but can be the easiest to repair. If your blanket is made of polyester, consider using a lighter to (carefully) seal the hole. It goes without saying—but we're going to say it anyway—the blanket should not be on the horse at the time of the repair.

For blankets made of other materials, consider using a duct tape patch to temporarily hold the tear together. A waterproof patch (available at some tack shops) also works well, as does an iron-on jean patch from a crafting supply store. Simply trim the patch to the size of the tear, iron on and let cool completely before placing back on your horse.

Glue is also an option to repair tears and small holes; just be sure the glue has time to set completely before putting the blanket back on your horse—usually overnight.

No matter what repair you make, tape, jean or iron-on patch, sealing the repair with waterproofing is never a bad idea. You can purchase spray-on waterproofing (the easiest and quickest to use) at camping supply stores where they keep the camping equipment (double-check that the type of waterproofing you purchase is useable on your blanket's material). Be sure to check at what temperature is best to use the waterproofing; if it recommends over 50 degrees F, you may need to take the blanket into a garage or other climate-controlled area to make sure the spray works.

For very large tears, sewing is best, but you don't have to be an expert seamstress—the repair just has to be functional. A straight or zig zag stitch is easiest, and hand sewing is always an option.

Know When to Give up the Ghost

Finally, if your horse is basically naked from his withers to his hips, it may be time to call it quits on your repairing abilities. If you do choose to trash your blanket, be sure to cut off the hardware (including leg or belly straps, if they are salvageable) and save them for later use. It also might be wise to cut some portions of the blanket itself to save as repair patches for the next blanket.
